Liz Locke

Liz Locke chairs the Grants Committee. She is working hard to encourage local nonprofits to apply for grants and make sure our grant process is well-documented and transparent. She wants all of our members to understand the process and help share the word in the community. As a founding member of Impact 100 Palm Beach County, Liz truly believes in the power of giving as one. She joined our chapter to get to know Indian River County better and to meet people in the community. Liz has an undergraduate degree in communications from the University of Maine and a master's degree in Library and Information Science from the University of South Florida. Before moving to Grand Harbor two years ago, Liz managed one of Palm Beach County's most active libraries. She calls Randolph, Vermont her "real" hometown and lived in Falmouth, Maine until they she and her husband Jeff moved to Boca Raton in 1990 with three small children in tow. Her daughter-in-law, Diana Locke, also is an Impact member, so it's a family thing!

Leslie Bergstrom

Leslie Bergstrom was introduced to Impact 100 six years ago by her friend, Diane Hess, and has enjoyed serving on and chairing Impact grant panels. From Wisconsin originally, she most recently lived in the Cayman Islands, the UK, and in Windsor for the past seven years while her daughter attended St. Ed's. She has BA degrees in English literature and fine art from Indiana University and the American College in London. She's been a business owner, artist agent, working muralist, graphic designer and marketing professional. She has served on multiple for-and not-for-profit boards in the Caribbean and the US, including Impact 100, Crossover Mission, Cayman Islands National Gallery, and the Vero Beach Museum of Art. She is an artist, a writer and a docent at the VBMA. Her favorite day of the month is the first Friday, when she makes a 4-course lasagna dinner for Camp Haven, an Impact grant recipient. She is so thankful to Impact 100 for the many friends she has made as well as the exposure to the wide variety of area nonprofits and the important work they do.

Lee Moore

Lee Moore is not new to Impact 100, but she is new to the board. She's been a member almost from the inception, having been introduced by Laura McDermott. Together with Joni Vinas, she hopes to be able to coordinate enjoyable, meaningful special events for Impact. Lee grew up in Grosse Pointe, Michigan and attended The University of New Hampshire, where she played varsity tennis and earned a B.S. in Community Planning & Development. Lee moved to Vero Beach in 1986 and became a Realtor for Norris & Company (now Berkshire Hathaway) from 1986-2017. She now works as a referral agent, matching buyers with sellers throughout the country. Lee is also the owner and designer of Faith & Family Jewelry, a faith symbolism-based jewelry company. Lee and her husband John married in 1991 and moved to Washington D.C. They returned to Vero in 1993 to raise their three children, Jack, Connor, and Lucie. John and Lee belong to Quail Valley Golf Club. Lee enjoys golf, jewelry design, pickleball, and community service.

June Fitzgerald

June Fitzgerald is wearing two hats this year as a board member. First, she organizes all the volunteers who help make our events run smoothly. Secondly, she is co-chairing our 15th anniversary celebration, Care to Share. And she works two jobs. She's an associate broker and member of the president's board of Dale Sorensen Real Estate and president of her own company, Transition Project Management. June attended NYU and the Fashion Institute of Technology NYC. Prior to moving to Vero full time eight years ago, she was a buyer for Burdine's, VP of fashion and product development for Bullock's, executive VP of Carole Little, president of Gene Ewing, and president of Carole Hockman and Carducci. June is a member of Vero Beach Country Club. She joined Impact 100 in 2014 at the invitation of Judy Peschio. She hopes to promote Impact and how her $1,000 a year combined with the contributions of other Impact members helps to make IRC a better place to live!
